

Your Alumni Association

NTU alumni... you're part of it

The Alumni Association is here for you! Everyone who is a former student of Nottingham Trent University, or any of its predecessor institutions*, is a valued member of Nottingham Trent University's alumni community. Our mission is to foster lasting relationships with, and between, former students which encourage pride and involvement in our University.

Membership to the Alumni Association is free!

We really want to keep in touch with you. All you need to do is remember to keep in contact whenever you move on personally or professionally – we really want to hear your news!

The Alumni Association will help you to stay in touch with your Nottingham Trent friends and lecturers and keep you up-to-date with news from your University. We also aim to provide you with relevant benefits and services to enhance your alumni membership. As long as you remain in contact with us – wherever you are in the world – we can continue to involve you in a worldwide community of over 100,000 alumni who have shared the Nottingham Trent experience over the years.

Events and reunions

We are always keen to meet up with our alumni. The Alumni Association plans a number of special events throughout the year – from reunions and celebrations on campus to pub get togethers and receptions at exclusive venues in London. We also offer support for those of you who want to arrange your own class reunion. We can help you trace your old friends and give advice on arranging your event. Visit the website at www.ntualumni.org.uk for more information and to view a list of forthcoming events.

*NTU's predecessor institutions include: Nottingham and District Technical College, Nottingham Regional College of Technology, Nottingham College of Art and Design, Nottingham College of Education, Brackenhurst Farm Institute, Brackenhurst College, Trent Polytechnic and Nottingham Polytechnic

“We are one big NTU family and want to be part of your life, not just part of your history, so please keep in touch.”

Support your University

Nottingham Trent University is proud to develop people who are shaping the world we live in for the better – whether through ground breaking cancer research, success in business, entrepreneurial thinking or creative talent.

It is vital that your University retains and builds on this level of achievement for students and graduates and there are many ways in which you can give your support.

Perhaps you might consider making a financial contribution to Nottingham Trent University. Every gift is significant and valuable as it is through the collective support of alumni and friends that we can make a real difference. You can choose to donate to one of our priority projects or you can let the University decide where it will have the most impact.

Other ways that you can support your University include volunteering to be a careers mentor or offering to take current students on work placements at your company. Some alumni return to share their expertise and knowledge with current students by giving guest lectures or by helping out at our open days.
